STATEMENTS BY NAZI PRESS TO BE PROTESTED

Von Schleicher Did Not Negotiate With France

Berlin, July 5.—(P)—France, through her Ambassador here, tonight formally and vigorously denied she was involved in the plot against Chancellor Hitler's government which was broken up by the week end executions.

The denial was given out and it was stated a formal protest will be made to the German government after the Nazi press had accused the late General Kurt Von Schleicher of having dealings with France.

The killing of Von Schleicher, who in 1932 was Chancellor for 58 days, was justified, the newspapers insisted, on the basis of "the heinous crime of entering into negotiations with France, thereby giving the idea to Paris that the Nazi system is not going to last."

Absurd Fable
French Ambassador Andre Francois Pontet branded the charge an "absurd fable" and protested strongly against the "great prominence" given to the story in German newspapers.

The Ambassador was said by French sources to have been promised when he called at Wilhelmstrasse yesterday that the German press would not be permitted to drag France into the matter.

Hitler's accused enemies of the plotters of negotiating with a "foreign power" and there was much speculation as to what country was meant.

The German newspapers story accused Von Schleicher, one of those executed by Hitler's men, of having dealings with France while he was Chancellor in 1932.

French foreign minister Louis Barthou was accused of revealing the Von Schleicher plot to the British at Geneva May 30.

"Hitler's days are numbered," Barthou was represented as saying.

In addition to the French envoy, the American and British Ambassadors have called at the foreign office.

The French Ambassador's statement, French sources said, was made doubly emphatic because he learned his name had been mentioned since Von Schleicher was shot. The two men were understood to have dined together within the last few months, and this point was emphasized in some circles.

The Embassy explained that the dining had no significance as Franco- (Continued on Page Eight)

MRS. INSULL HAS RETURNED HOME, GREETED FAMILY

Wife Of Ex-Utility King Is Enthused Over Reunion

By Giles L. Findley
Associated Press Staff Writer

Chicago, July 5.—(P)—Mrs. Samuel Insull came home tonight—home to a little three roomed apartment in a near North Side hotel, a far cry from the magnificent estate of which she was mistress when she left two years ago.

Sprightly and apparently enthused over the reunion with her family, Mrs. Insull came in on the train like an ordinary tourist and rode in a taxicab to the modest apartment hotel where she met her aged husband, Samuel Insull, Sr., and her grandson, "Sammy."

Mrs. Insull and two of her "Sams" came to a private sitting room of the hotel and posed for photographs. There the former Gladys Wallis of the legitimate stage sat and chatted with the interviewers.

To a question concerning her plans for the future, she answered that she "had no plans beyond the immediate greeting of her family."

Asked if she planned to see the World's Fair at which her husband is a frequent visitor, she said she had not thought about it yet, but that "it was a beautiful fair."

Questioned about her young grandson, Samuel Insull, III, she brightened up and spoke enthusiastically, telling what a wonderful child she thought he was.

"But, he didn't know me," she pouted. "You see he was only 13 months old when I left. No, I didn't bring him any toys from Paris, only a simple one that I picked up in New York."

While Mrs. Insull was sitting answering questions, her husband sat back in the corner taking much interest in the proceedings.

At the mention of Madame Helen Coyne, the Athenian woman much quoted as a friend of her husband's, Mrs. Insull's eyes left the circle and slowly sought those of her son. She said she knew the lady and considered her a "great friend," and hoped to see her here soon.

The younger Insull then said that the family would answer any questions about "the Insulls," but wished to be excused from telling of plans by their friends.

As the interview broke up with Mrs. Insull declining to say anything about her future plans or about the troubles into which her husband had become involved, a reporter leaned over to the elder Insull and asked:

"How do you like being pushed into the background like this?"

"Do you mean on an occasion like this?" he asked, and then said, "I like it."

Samuel Insull, Sr., then smiled at a girl reporter and she said, "I'd give a penny for your thoughts."

"I was merely thinking how I would run this interview if I was you," he replied with a smile.

Only a handful of redcaps, a couple of police, and Robert Ketting, a friend of the family, met Mrs. Insull and son at the station. A curious throng of spectators watched the party up the steps.

Mrs. Insull met her husband in private in the apartment which she will now call home.

As Borah departed, his democratic colleague, Senator Pope, retorted to his criticism of "bureaucracy" in the new deal by asserting "mere criticism can never take the place of a constructive program to meet the practical needs of our people."

Borah's speech, said it was apparent to him "that the rank and file of the people are less interested in legalistic conceptions of liberty and more interested in practical measures to promote human welfare."

"His attack upon bureaucracy in the abstract will meet with sympathetic response," Pope added, "but the people will continue to insist upon government help in their problems, which means administrative bureaus."

Thermometers In Chicago District Pull Freak Stunt

Chicago, July 5.—(P)—To the query, "how's the weather up there?", Chicagoans could have but one reply today.

That would be: "Now you've got me."

Thermometers registered 93 at 3 P. M. on the south side but only 73 in the loop.

The mercury plunged from 93 to 73 at the University of Chicago between 3 and 4 P. M. in the loop it dropped only from 79 to 75 in the same hour.

REVIEW BOARD IS ABOLISHED BY ROOSEVELT

Darrow Group Made Three Critical Reports

By Elton C. Fay
Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, July 5.—(P)—The National Recovery Review Board, formerly headed by Clarence Darrow and which made three critical reports on the influence of NRA codes on little businesses, has been abolished by President Roosevelt.

The white house disclosed today that this was one of the last orders of the president before he closed his desk to sail for his Pacific trip.

The order, dated June 30, was handed to the three remaining members of the review board the day before the board gave to newspapers copies of its third and last report to the president.

The presidential order, explaining the reason for calling on the three members to "take steps to discontinue" the board, said:

"The chairman and two other members of the board have resigned and any further investigations and reports would not be representative of the board as originally constituted or serve to effectuate the purposes for which it was created."

The president said the board had "substantially completed its work."

The three remaining members of the board are W. W. Neal, Fred P. Mann and Samuel Henry. Darrow resigned about a week ago. The other two were William O. Thompson and John P. Sinclair. The latter resigned early in the life of the board, disagreeing with the majority on its first report and submitting a minority report.

At the time the board made public on Saturday its third report, spokesmen for the organization said it was "in recess, awaiting further word from the president."

The review board was established March 7, by executive order of the president, after complaints against the effect of codes on little business concerns had been voiced on capitol hill. Leading the congressional critics of the codes were Senators Nye of North Dakota and Borah of Idaho, both Republican Independents.

The board, in all three reports, insisted its investigations disclosed the growth of monopoly under the code, holding that the suspension of the anti-trust laws, a provision of the recovery act, fostered such monopolies.

In the third report, it accompanied this charge with the additional declaration that in this respect the NRA had "become not in the fact but adjunct of depression."

Hugh S. Johnson, the recovery administrator, and virtually his entire staff of deputy administrators and legal advisors, hit back at the Darrow board reports. Johnson informed the president the board was "clearly incapable" of supplying "fair and constructive criticism" and therefore should be "abolished forthwith."

This recommendation to the president was dated almost two months ago.

RESTORE ORDER
Amsterdam, Holland, July 6.—(P)—Municipal and military police early today charged over barricades and restored order to the Hordaan quarter of the city, where communists and unemployed had staged a day-long riot.

The officers met little resistance, most of the mob having dispersed. Police found streets devastated, and many homes and shops had been plundered. Apparently, however, only one person was killed, a member of the mob slain early in the day.

A bridge had been burned and many windows shattered. The mob hurled rocks and bottles at the police and stoutly defended barricades in streets leading to the Hordaan quarter, a section of workers' homes.

PERMISSION TO MARRY REFUSED SIAMESE TWIN

Couple Plan To Wage Legal Battle For License

By Max Hill,
Associated Press Staff Writer

New York, July 5.—(P)—Refused permission to marry in two states because she is a Siamese twin, red-haired Violet Hilton and her would-be husband, Maurice L. Lambert, decided tonight to wage a legal battle for the license.

In both New York and New Jersey officials were unyielding to pleas of Violet, accompanied of course by Daisy, the left half of the famous twins, and Lambert. They based their refusals on moral grounds.

The trio appeared first at the municipal license bureau in Manhattan, where a stammering clerk delayed them while he sought a legal refuge in the corporation counsel's office.

After a lengthy study of legal tomes was made, it was decided no license would be issued.

Refused License.
The twins and Lambert journeyed to Newark, N. J., and there the perplexed clerk's refusal was based on the same moral grounds that caused a hitch in the proceedings across the Hudson.

"We'll go to Ekton, M. D.," said Violet.

But instead, the trio turned back to New York, and their attorney said he would start mandamus proceedings against city officials tomorrow in the Supreme Court.

The corporation counsel's office admittedly based the non-issuance of the license on the theory that a city has the right of discretion in their issuance.

The officials also voiced a suspicion that the application might be a publicity stunt for a forthcoming vaudeville tour of the twins, who are joined together at the hips.

"The very idea is quite immoral and indecent," said Acting Corporation Counsel William C. Chanler. "No, there's no law against it, but it just seems indecent to me."

Daisy was disturbed by the legal barriers placed in the romantic path of her twin sister and Lambert, the musical director for their act. Lambert is a native of Westport, Md.

She said she plans to marry Harry Mason, a welterweight fighter in England, after he comes to this country, about six months hence.

The plight of the twins revived stories of the "original Siamese twins," Eng and Chang Bunker, who lived in North Carolina, married and reared large families.

Eng was the father of 11 children and Chang, 10. They were born in Bangkok, Siam, in 1811.

After several tours of the United States they settled at Mount Airy, N. C., and there they married Sarah and Adelaide Yates, sisters, in a double wedding in 1843.

The twins became well-to-do farmers and lived until 1874. Chang died of pneumonia and his brother died about an hour and a half later. They were buried at White Plains church, near Mount Airy.

Three of Chang's children and two of Eng's still are living.

AUTO KILLS WOMAN
Ondigo, Wis., July 5.—(P)—Mrs. Mary Sprague, 50, Menominee Indian mother Evelyn Frechette, imprisoned sweetheart of John Dillinger, died today at a Reservation hospital at Keshena of injuries received Tuesday night when she was struck by an automobile while walking on a highway in the village of Neopit.

Clem Morris, a Manitowoc, Wis., salesman, authorities said was the driver. He was released after the accident, but left here at noon today in response to a summons to attend an inquest at Keshena.

Miss Frechette is serving a two year sentence in the women's reformatory at Alderson, W. Va., for harboring the Indiana desperado in Minneapolis.

SENTENCED TO DEATH
Los Angeles, July 5.—(P)—Mrs. Nellie Madison, former Montana cowgirl, was sentenced today to die on the gallows at San Quentin prison, September 24, for the murder of her husband, Eric, movie studio cafe manager.

The sentence, pronounced by Superior Judge Charles E. Fricke, marked the second time in the history of California that a woman had been condemned to die. Sentence of the other woman was commuted to life imprisonment.

Writes Story Of His Death Then Commits Suicide

Morristown, Tenn., July 5.—(P)—The Morristown Gazette and Mail this afternoon carried the story of the death of Nahor Y. Hill, a member of the editorial staff and advertising manager, written by him a short time before he fired a bullet into his head.

Hill went about his duties on the paper as usual this morning. At noon he went home, ostensibly for lunch. Members of his family heard a shot and found him dead when they entered his room.

On his desk at the newspaper office his associates found the story of his death.

"Nahor Y. Hill, for the past eight years associated with the Morristown Gazette and Mail in charge of advertising and in a editorial capacity, ended his life at noon today. 'His health was attributed as the cause of the act. x x x'"

RAILROAD SHOP WORKERS PLAN UNION MERGER

New Group Will Take In 108 Individual Organizations

Chicago, July 5.—(P)—Railroad shop workers took the first steps today toward merging the company unions of thirteen lines into a new national labor organization.

Representatives of the shopcraft unions—vertical labor societies which include employees in all sorts of shop jobs—said they contemplated a union along the lines of the four big railroad brotherhoods.

The new union will take in 108 individual organizations, said Secretary James I. McConnell of Topeka, Kan. Its formation was made necessary, he explained, by amendments to the railway labor act banning company unions in the labor set up which will prevail when the new railway labor board of 36 members begins to administer the lines' labor relations.

Will Name Committee.
Chief business today, as the delegates met in response to a call from the allied independent railroad labor organization, was the appointment of a committee on constitution and by-laws, which will report tomorrow. T. H. Davis, Philadelphia, of the Pennsylvania's eastern region, headed the committee.

Shop unions represented included those of the Pennsylvania, Rock Island, Wabash, Burlington, Great Northern, St. Louis and San Francisco, St. Louis and Southwestern, M. K. and T. New York, New Haven and Hartford, the Southern Pacific, Illinois Central, International Great Northern and Santa Fe.

Claiming to represent 125,000 shop workers, in shopcraft societies independent of the A. F. of L., the delegates said there was no sentiment in the meeting to affiliate with the federation.

The fighting, which began Tuesday as the port opening movement got under way, recurred first this morning, when non-union truck operators began working once more behind police lines.

More than 2,000 union men concentrated on the Embarcadero, the state-owned thoroughfare skirting the waterfront, and sought to stop the movement of cargo. Several hundred police charged them and cleared the area after an hour and a half of fighting, during which six persons were hurt.

Snarling because of the rout, the strikers came back after the lunch-hour. A group of pickets edged too close to a platoon of bluecoats and the battle was on again. At the height of the second battle the governor ordered out the guardsmen to take the situation in hand.

The firing of a box car on the state owned belt line railroad, which plies along the waterfront, proved to be the signal for Gov. Merriam to call out the guard. Merriam had warned the strikers not to molest state-owned property.

WILL OFFER STOCK
Chicago, July 5.—(P)—Public offering of stock of a Wisconsin brewery will be made tomorrow, 200,000 shares common stock of the Blumer Brewing Corporation of Monroe, Wis. The stock will be offered at $1.20 a share.

DENVER POLICE HAVE KIDNAPING CASE TO SOLVE

Officers Find 12 Year Old Girl En Route to Home Of Her Aunt

Denver, July 5.—(P)—Police had a kidnapping scare today but when the case finally was solved the "victim," Anna Lee Carey, 12-year-old daughter of a Quincy, Ill., family was discovered to be speeding happily on her way to her aunt's home at Quincy.

Police said the girl's brother, James Carey, 17, and a friend, Stephen Oliver, 18, son of a Philadelphia lawyer, had admitted they had planned the girl's trip.

They were quoted by Albert T. Clark, chief of police, as saying Anna had been unhappy here because her mother, Mrs. Harry Carey, was ill in a Denver hospital.

She expressed a wish to be with her aunt, Mrs. Emma Riekey, in Quincy, the youths said.

So they asked her grandmother, with whom she had been living here, if they might take her for an automobile ride. Given permission, they supplied her with money and then took her to a Quincy-bound train and she left, alone.

When the child and the youths failed to return to their apartment relatives called police on the theory they had been kidnapped. Several hours later the youths were found in a show. Police lectured the youths and released them.

Modern Independence

We have this week observed Independence Day, which means far more
in American life than the mere fact that we declared Independence from England before we had won it. The Independence we celebrate has been inherent in the life of our people
since the first settlers set foot on American shores. We broke from England because a century and a half of pioneering had made us independent.

And we are still that way. Witness the hue and cry that goes up the moment anybody or anything threatens encroachment of our liberties.
Many of the measures the depression
has compelled us to take are foreign to our very nature. An illustration
will explain:

On Independence day a radio
speaker in New York took a walk thru
the lower East Side, and returned to the mike to say, "That, too, is America, and we'd better not try to deny it." He then told of meeting an unemployed
truck driver in a little park. The man was almost devoid of clothing. While they sat and talked, a bum came by
and begged for a nickel.

"Maybe I ought to do that," said the unemployed man, "but I can't. I guess I'm foolish, but I can't beg. Yesterday I sold my coat and shirt for half a dollar, and I still have some of it left. I don't know what I'll do tomorrow, but I won't be begging." And this man refused a quarter when the other tried to press it into his hand.

Yes, despite the depression, we are still independent. There are millions
like this unemployed man, the clerk off their backs than beg. These people want to earn their living; they long
for the sturdy independence our fathers had and loved. Americans are still independent and if they are given half a chance, they will remain independent.

Byrd Rings The Bell

Admiral Byrd, packed away in the frozen south where it is 53 degrees below zero, rang the bell Wednesday night and millions of Americans,
sweltering in a Fourth of July heat wave, heard the bell he rang and the radio buzzer he used to ring it. Down
there in his isolated shack, Byrd
pressed a key, and in Independence
hall in Philadelphia, 10,000 miles away, the old Liberty Bell responded with a clang for every buzz.

We don't understand how it was done, but radio science and engineering skill made it possible. On July 4, 1876, the Liberty Bell was heard by only a few thousand people, as it
boomed out the fact that the colonies
had declared their freedom from the British crown. Outside Philadelphia
the news was carried by messenger,
and it was hours, days and even
weeks before it reached the outermost settlements of the colonies. But when Admiral Byrd at the south pole, 158
years later, rang the same Liberty Bell, its message was heard thruout several continents and in the islands
of the sea.

Suppose that in 1776 someone had told George Washington that in 1934
a citizen of the United States would ring the Liberty Bell from the south pole. Washington was a man of high intelligence, strong hope and lofty vision, but he would certainly have valued at such a possibility. He would have said it couldn't be done and that the prophet was either dreaming or crazy. And such a conclusion would not have been amiss. Nevertheless, it has been done, and if George Washington could be alive today and behold the marvellous accomplishments
of the nation he helped to found, he would understand why such a feat is possible.

One Glass Too Many

A man in Warsaw, Poland, had a habit of drinking a big glass of vodka
after his daily breakfast. He lived to be 109 years old, and was figuring on a few more years and as many glasses
of vodka as would be necessary.

But one morning he drank his last glass he remarked to his daughter
that he was going to die and promptly
did so. It isn't every man that knows exactly what he is going to do next, especially after drinking a glass of vodka.

For the information of the uninitiated American vodka may be defined as Russian whiskey. It corresponds to the acme of honor in this country and anywhere else. If you know what that is. A daily glass of the stuff would be a bit tough on the constitution, unless you were used to
it. After living 109 years and drinking a glass every day, a man ought to be used to it.

But this Warsaw citizen drank one glass too many. Now if he had died before drinking that last glass, we would say he had eaten one breakfast
too many. And if he had died before eating breakfast, it would have been merely old age that killed him. But if this man had not died that morning he would have taken another glass of vodka the next morning, because he had no way of knowing it would kill him.

Appreciating Home

Gilbert Seldes writing in Esquire quotes the late Ring Lardner in an appreciation of home:

"At 29 home was like they say on the vaudeville stage, a place to go
when all the other joints was closed
up. But at 35 you spell it with a big
H. Its where you can take off your shoes. Its where you can have more soup. Its where you don't half to say nothing when they're nothing to say. Its where they don't wait till the meal is all over and then give you an ere dropper full of coffee raw.
Its where you don't half to listen.
Its where they don't smear everything with cheese dressing. Its where you can pen everybody without it going no further. Its where they know you like doughnuts and what you think about a banana."

That little paragraph ought to go down as a classic. In other words,
home is the one place in the world
where you can be yourself and have what you like best. By which we don't mean that home is a place
where you can vent all the spleen
you have accumulated in other places,
or go on a grand grouch. If all the members of the family did that, any place else would be better than home.
It would become even less than the parking place and the filling station
it is reputed to be.

What home affords is comfort and security. If a man cannot be comfortable in his home, he is in a sad
state. If he cannot there feel secure from the worries of life, he is most unfortunate. Home is the one place which should be free from debt, for which all bills should be met.
Thus only can it be kept as a refuge.

Our national Constitution makers
had in mind the security of the American home. They put into that document some very plain words
about its sanctity, believing in the old axiom that a man's house is his castle. That means simply that whether or not a man's dwelling place is surrounded by a moat and protected by turrets, it is protected under a constitutional guarantee and is as safe as if it were indeed a castle.

A Boom Could Be Tolerated

In view of the rapid growth of excess reserves in banks, one group of government officials is reported concerned about the possibility of an extensive credit inflation that might assume boom proportions and so is considering means of controlling such a development. But another group is reported in the position of hoping for a chance to control a boom, whatever its cause or nature.
The sympathies of the nation probably will be cast with the latter faction. In reality, the majority of the people probably would be as delighted with the threat of a boom as would
the middle West with the prospect of a genuine thunderstorm.

"Nudism," says a Chicago judge,
"takes us back 1,000 years." But,
fortunately, so far only a few seem to have signed up for the trip.

Wallace An Issue

From the Bloomington Pantagraph.
Henry Wallace, secretary of agriculture, comes from Iowa, and in his home state they take their politics seriously. Some of the most seething political battles of the century
have been fought in Iowa, where the tall corn grows.

According to certain Washington
correspondence, another warm political fight will occur in Iowa this fall,
and Secretary Wallace will be the chief issue. Iowa has one Republican senator and one Democratic senator. Three of its members in the house are Republicans, and the rest Democrats. Sentiment as to Wallace is evenly divided in the Iowa
official delegation in Washington.

Some of the Democratic members
don't like him, and none of the three Republicans in the house approve of the AAA program.
A letter to the Des Moines Register
from Richard Wilson, its chief Washington writer says: "Democrats here
picture a great deal of the farm vote
in the congressional races swinging upon whether or not farmers like the adjustment plan. There are reverenderations here of some dissatisfaction with the farm program. The outcry against the hog allotments is a keen
one. The slowness of benefit payments is a constant source of complaint. There is evidence that many farmers think, whether erroneously
or not, that the price of hogs would be higher if it were not for the processing tax. There is one essential fact. Democrats here concede that they may have a definite effect upon elections. Corn and hog benefits have been exceedingly slow in going out, yet they will arrive in considerable proportion just before election.
The second payment, in fact, will be about due. It is reasonable to anticipate that Iowa around election
time will be flooded with federal money."

It is safe to say that Secretary
Wallace will refrain from taking a part in the congressional elections,
although those in the confidence of the secretary are certain that he would like to see certain of Iowa's congressmen remain at home.

SO THEY SAY!

The New Deal

AAA Masses Its Forces for
"Battle of Century" . . .
War Carried Direct to Foe
... Aid of Consumers and Farmers Is Sought for Epochal Conflict.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington, July 5.—You can't possibly overestimate the importance of AAA's summer-fall campaign of counter-propaganda.

It is the most significant show in all this 40-ring circus. NRA doesn't yet know where it's headed. AAA does.
AAA has rolled up its sleeves for a finish fight in the open with its enemies. It will wage a grim, hard-hitting campaign to convince tens of millions of farmers and consumers that its enemies are also their—and thus recruit them in the fight.

AAA's enemies are the "middlemen"
—the processors and distributors who handle and sell us our food.

Perhaps it's a mistake to speak of a fully cohesive AAA campaign. It's the "young liberals," strongest but not always dominating force in the farm administration, who lead it. And there are at least the making of an internal struggle similar to that in which Administrator George N. Peek was eased out to another job.

But AAA does present a relatively united front in the struggle for higher prices for farmers, fair prices for consumers, and only a reasonable spread of profits and costs for the middle-
man. And that simply means an attack on the profit system as it now exists.

AAA sees it as an attack on profiting in the necessities of life as well as an attempt to save farmers
from exploitation by packers, millers, canners, milk manufacturers, and
other groups.

If AAA wins its battle of counter-propaganda, it will be supported by an irresistible force of farmer and consumer pressure when the next consumer convenes. If it loses, the farm program and the New Deal's unprecedented consumer protection effort
probably are sunk.

Food industries worth billions of dollars are opposing it desperately. In congress they beat the amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act which would have enabled AAA to enforce its licensing and marketing agreements despite legal attacks.

Fiercely they seek to convince farmers
that they're being forced toward slavery and both farmers and consumers that processing taxes are ruining them. They want no crop reduction,
because they want to buy cheaply.
They want to fix prices to the consumer.

And a large segment of public opinion supports their view that their profits are none of the government's business.

Leading the AAA fight are Under-
secretary Rexford Tugwell, General
Counsel Jerome Frank, and Dr. Fred Howe and Dr. Thomas C. Blaisdell of the Consumers' Counsel's office. Administrator Chester C. Davis has delivered some hard blows at processors
who try to sabotage AAA, but is handicapped by advice from section chiefs
who favor the middlemen.

Secretary Wallace is entirely sympathetic with the liberals, but sincerely
anxious not to interfere with Davis.
If you could read the texts of Tugwell's Iowa and South Dakota speeches
you would appreciate the surprising
boldness with which AAA is suddenly waging war. The speeches were partly a collaboration by the best brains in AAA, who decided at last that their only hope of success was to take their case straight to the people.

Tugwell named names, suggesting that Libby, McNeill and Libby had fought AAA because the company was a subsidiary of Swift & Co of the packing industry, which seeks freedom to operate as it likes. He attacked
Thomas Wickham and Arthur Cutten,
grain men.

He told farmers and consumers
of others who he says are still trying to exploit them.

AAA also seeks to explain that crop reduction was forced upon it by a ruthless economic system which enables industry to out production—and often maintain prices—at will.

The AAA crowd hopes that if and when agriculture can be put on an even basis with industry, both will be caused to produce in abundance and that limited profits will be the general rule.

Bear in mind that on the home
grounds the AAA liberals are constantly fighting for agreements which,
in return for anti-trust exemptions,
will permit examination of corporation
books and records, which alone can tell whether producers and consumers
are getting a fair break.

There's no packers' agreement because AAA has insisted on a "books
and records" clause if packers are to fix prices.

Milk distributors, their profits more fully exposed than those of any other industry, fight in the courts against being asked to pay given prices to farmers when AAA doesn't enforce their retail price-fixing.

Canners, though they'll soon have to describe the quality of their goods on can labels—thanks to AAA—have just won their first big victory in a canned peach agreement which omits a full
"books and records" clause.

Cotton manufacturers have ducked
an inquiry into their charges that processing taxes were ruining them, but AAA may yet insist they produce
"books and records."

Watch this fight. It's really one of those "battles of the century!"

VIVIAN RUYLE WEDS
ATTORNEY IN RITES
AT ELGIN JUNE 30TH

Miss Vivian Ruyle, formerly of this city and Roodhouse, became the bride of Attorney W. B. Morgan in a pretty ceremony June 30 at Elgin. Details of the ceremony were received here by a newspaper clipping.

The bride is a graduate of the nurses training school of Our Saviour's hospital. She has many friends in this city and Roodhouse, where she formerly resided.

The Elgin Courier reported the wedding as follows:

June, the month of brides, will be brought to a close with the weddings
of several Elgin couples, some of whom have chosen an evening hour
for the ceremony. However, among those who were wed this afternoon
were Miss Vivian Ruyle and Atty. W.
B. Morgan, both popular young people of this city and members of the First Baptist church where the ceremony
was solemnized at 4 by the pastor, Dr.
Sidney Waterbury Powell.

To the strains of the bridal chorus
from Lohengrin, played by Miss Marian Churchill, the wedding party proceeded to the altar, led by Mrs. A. W.
Cooper of Springfield, a sister of the bride who served as matron of honor,
wearing an ensemble of delicate pink sheer crepe with white accessories
and carrying a bouquet of pink roses,
blue larkspur and baby's breath.

The bride followed on the arm of her brother, Clayton Ruyle of this city, who gave her in marriage. She was charmingly attired in a gown of white crepe, floor length, and worn
with a finger-tip jacket of satin striped, organza. With her tucked white turban she wore a nose length
veil and carried a bouquet of white bride's roses, white larkspur and baby's breath.

Myron W. Yonker of this city served the bridegroom as best man and with him, awaited the bridal party at the altar. Dr. Howard B. Foucher and Atty. Harold Jordan were the ushers.
Preceding the ceremony, while guests
were assembling, Douglas Nicholson
of Chicago, formerly of Elgin, sang
two solos, "I Love You Truly," Bond,
and "Because," D'Hardelle. Miss Churchill played Mendelssohn's recessional for the bridal party to leave
the church.

A reception and buffet lunch was given afterward by Mr. and Mrs.
Yonker at their home, 1136 Bellvue
Ave., guests including the wedding party and immediate relatives. The couple will leave this evening for northern Wisconsin and, upon returning from their honeymoon will reside at 406 Prospect St.

The bride, who is a surgical supervisor at Sherman hospital, received her nurses' training at Our Saviour's hospital, Jacksonville, Ill., and took post-graduate work and
surgery at Johns Hopkins, Baltimore, Md.

Attorney Morgan was graduated from the University of Illinois and from the Liberal Arts and Law College there where he was a member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity. He has been practicing law in Elgin for the past six years as an associate of Atty. Arthur L. Paulson. He is a member of Elgin lodge 727, B. P. O. E., the Lions club and Delta Theta Phi,
professional law fraternity.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included the bride's mother,
Mrs. Katherine Ruyle of Roodhouse,
Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly and Mrs.
Douglas Nicholson of Chicago.

Hunting Licenses
are Now Available

A supply of hunting licenses for the 1934-35 season was received Thursday at the office of County Clerk F.
W. Brookhouse. Nimrods still have almost a month in which to take out permits before there is an open season on any game. The squirrel season starts August 1, and from then on through the fall and winter there will be moving targets for sportsmen.

The duck and geese season will get under way Oct. 1, and will be regulated by the federal "duck stamp"
laws. On the reverse side of each 1934 hunting license there is provided space for one of these stamps
which are required for all persons who hunt waterfowl.

This was provided for by a recent act of Congress, and is to be purchased only by persons who hunt wild ducks, geese and brants.

The stamp will be available soon at post offices in all cities with 2,500 or more population, and at some other post offices in the territory where such birds are usually hunted. The stamps cost $1, the same price as a regular hunting license.

Monies resulting from the sale of these stamps are to be used by the federal authorities for work in Migratory Waterfowl Restoration.

MRS. LONERGAN'S BROTHER
PASSES AWAY IN CHICAGO

Mrs. Bernard Lonergan of 343 East
Morton avenue received a telegram
Wednesday telling of the death of her brother, Dr. George Newhardt, in Chicago. The remains will be taken to Milton, Ill., where the funeral and interment will take place Friday.

To the Editor of The Journal-Courier:

Santa Monica, Calif., July 5.—They say it takes a big man to admit he is wrong. Well here is where I became a giant. I said yesterday that the Republicans made their campaign speech when the whole U. S. was tuned in on Germany, or Amos and Andy, and that nobody heard it. But by golly I was wrong, from some of the criticism I read of it from the Democrats, they must have all been listening. I had no idea they were even paying any attention to the Republicans. Get these Democrats on the defense, and they are not so hot.
A Democrat is a better fault finder than he is an explainer. So there is liable to be some excitement at this fall's election, yet.

Yours,
WILL

Ministers Protest Dancing at School

White Hall, July 5.—A committee of five preachers and elders from the Tabernacle Baptist church appeared before the White Hall school board Monday evening to protest dancing in the school building. School dances were given in the gymnasium during the past year. Those from the Tabernacle church were Elders C. E. Hudson, Leo S. Crossman, Roy Anthony, Charles Hayes and Harley Ford. The school board took the matter under advisement after some discussion between members of the board and the committee.

James Tilley underwent an operation at the White Hall hospital Tuesday morning for an acute attack of appendicitis.

Miss Olive Strang came up from St. Louis Monday to spend a part of a two weeks vacation with her father, W. S. Strang and other relatives.

Maxine Evans is spending the week with her aunt, Mrs. J. J. Wilmert in Lincoln.

Mildred Dye of Williamsville is the guest of Miss Mildred Rich on Carrollton street this week.

Miss Rich Will Marry

Announcement was made of the approaching marriage of Miss Mildred Rich, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Rich, and Ralph Thomas, son of Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Thomas, at a bridge party held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Rich, Monday evening. The wedding will take place in August.

There were three tables at play during the evening, and a refreshment course was served in the dining room which was prettily decorated in pink and white. The announcement was made in corsage bouquets which were laid at each plate. Tiny envelopes with the initials "M.R. and R.T. and August," told the story.

The guests were Mary Ellen Pennell, Hazel Corsi, Ethel Bradshaw, Lucy Lynn Smith, Mrs. Merrill Kesinger, Mrs. Russell McMahan, Mrs. Charles Coates of White Hall, Isabel Ballou, Maxine Mitts, of Jacksonville, Charlotte Tunison of East St. Louis, Hopkins of Roodhouse.

The bride elect is the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Rich and is a graduate of the White Hall high school and attended Blackburn university at Carlinville for one semester. Mr. Thomas is also a graduate of the White Hall high school and attended St. Louis University in St. Louis for one year. He has been employed in the Thomas grocery store and recently became assistant manager of the Klump filling station on North Main street.

Corn Makes Gains During Past Week

Springfield, Ill., July 5.—(AP)—Illinois corn made "excellent growth" during the week ending July 3, the Department of Agriculture announced today in its weekly weather and crop bulletin.

"The best corn," the report states, "is waist high, laid by, and beginning to tassle. There were scattered replantings during the week. Corn is being damaged by chinch bugs, but considerable efforts are being made to control the insects, and rainfall was sufficient in some localities to check their activities; however, they have now reached the flying stage."

"Winter wheat harvest is beginning in the extreme north, and threshing is under way in the central and south; yields and quality are extremely variable as a result of drought conditions and chinch bug damage."

Oats improved in a few localities, though the crop is mostly very short. Soy beans and cow peas are doing well and planting of those crops continues.

Temperatures, the report said, had been "unseasonably high" during the first four days of the week, and the high marks reached in many areas exceeded the previous extremes recorded in June. Showers during the week were light to moderate in amount, only a few scattered localities receiving rains of an inch or more.

MRS. RUTH ARNOLD IS OPERATED UPON HERE

White Hall, July 5.—Relatives in White Hall had word that Mrs. Ruth Arnold of Jacksonville underwent a serious abdominal operation in Our Saviour's hospital in Jacksonville. Mrs. Arnold was formerly Miss Ruth Dugger of White Hall and Athensville.

Mrs. A. L. Vermillion has been quite ill at her home on Carr street for more than a week but was somewhat improved Wednesday.

Mrs. W. H. Pembroke of Athensville came Wednesday to spend the remainder of the week with her daughters, Mrs. Roy Dugger and Mrs. Clarence Rextroat.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pekarek of St. Louis arrived Tuesday evening to spend the remainder of the week with Mr. and Mrs. George Cooper on West Franklin street.

Mrs. Harry Sweetin was quite ill Wednesday.

The fire department was called to the barns belonging to the White Hall Sewer Pipe and Stoneware company and located near the Burlington depot Wednesday afternoon where only slight damage was done. It is thought the fire originated from a cigarette stub.

Rama, the nine year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fair suffered burns on one hand and the side of her face Wednesday afternoon when a fire cracker exploded in her hand. The wounds were dressed in the office of Dr. W. H. Garrison and he administered a tetanus serum.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shirley of Springfield spent the Fourth with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shirley on West Franklin street.

Harold Parks came up from Alton and spent the Fourth at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dugger on Centennial avenue.

PWA Allows $55,000 for New Unit to Be Erected at I. S. D.

The State of Illinois has secured a PWA grant of $55,000 to aid in the erection of the new $185,000 unit at the Illinois School for the Deaf. A. L. Bowen, head of the Department of Public Welfare, who attended the celebration at the State Hospital Wednesday evening, gave this information to Managing Officer D. T. Cloud.

A final checkup of plans and specifications being prepared in the office of the state architect was expected to be made Thursday. Erection of the unit will begin shortly. Dr. Cloud said the site already having been selected. The structure will be located on West College avenue immediately west of the old school building. It will consist of two dormitories, which will house 150 students, connected together by a 16 room school building. The plan is novel and is expected to produce one of the most attractive institutional buildings in the state.

The report that the PWA fund for the building had been allocated came out of Washington some days ago. The state department is proceeding with plans, and it is hoped to let the contract within a short time.

Delegates Speak on Kiwanis Convention

T. C. Jenkinson and Charles N. Wright, who attended the 18th annual convention of Kiwanis International, held at Toronto June 10 to 14, made their reports Thursday at the meeting of the local club, for which they were the official delegates. They made the trip to the convention by way of Washington, D. C., and arrived in time for the opening religious musicale Sunday evening, which featured a choir of 200 voices.

The convention was held at the Royal York hotel. Both delegates noted that the Canadian speakers emphasized the necessity for peace and were most interested in gaining support of the United States to maintain it. The report of the international president showed that Kiwanis gained 6,000 new members the past year and that the 1934 membership is growing at the rate of 1,200 per month.

There were 1,118 delegates registered for the convention. Music was furnished by the Glendale Singers from California, and the Saginaw Singers, a group of French-Canadians. Messrs. Jenkinson and Wright attended model club sessions at which matters of club interest were discussed. After listening to a recital of difficulties experienced by other clubs, they concluded that the local organization is doing most of the things suggested to promote club welfare.

President Hugh Green was in charge of the meeting Thursday. B. L. Froehle led the club sing.

Barber Wins Match With Decatur Boy

Willie Barber, classy amateur flyweight of Jacksonville, boxed his way to another victory Wednesday night at Virginia in a fistie program sponsored by the Walter Reid American Legion Post. Barber took a clean cut decision from Chuck Holderby of Decatur, three times Golden Gloves champ of the Danville district.

Big Abe Pedurs, Illinois College athlete, lost the decision in his match with Tommy Sutherland of Springfield. Neither boxer was able to do much damage.

The team composed of Jacksonville, Springfield and Virginia boys took a 4 to 1 victory over the Decatur team. Guy Woods of Jacksonville was match maker of the bouts which were seen by a large Fourth of July crowd.

Al Dirreen, Virginia, won from Mickey McMahon, Decatur.

Chuck Cole, Springfield, won from Willard Ray, Decatur.

Eddie Shay, Springfield, beat Herb Walker, Decatur.

Pal Gilbert, Jacksonville, won from Ebenhower, Jacksonville.

Floyd Mason, Jacksonville, and Harold Martin, Springfield, boxed a three round exhibition.

Babies Need Best Hot Weather Care

Information on feeding, rest, and general care of infants has been issued by the Educational Committee of the Illinois Tuberculosis association to aid mothers in maintaining the health of babies during the summer months, considered by medical authorities to be the danger season for children under two years.

Many babies die every year because of diarrheal diseases, the committee states. Most of them could be saved if given proper care and food. The breast-fed baby has a better chance to live through hot weather than the bottle baby, providing the mother is healthy.

"Only a physician should prescribe the formula if a baby is bottle fed," the committee says. "It should be prepared exactly as he orders. Pasteurized milk is safest, and raw milk, if used, should be made safe by boiling. Bottles should be washed thoroughly and boiled after each use."

"The physician should be called immediately if the baby is ailing, or feverish or continuously fretful. It is no time to guess; call the doctor and obey his instructions."

Frequent spongings in tepid water. Clothing should be light and loose and there should be very little of it. Most mothers dress themselves comfortable for summer weather, the statement points out, but some still swathe their babies in layers of wool garments. Babies suffer more intensely from the heat than adults, and wool should be taboo.

It should not be forgotten that babies need as much water as they will take. Both water and the covered receptacle in which it is kept should be boiled. It should be given at room temperature, between feedings, and all equipment should be boiled each time it is used. Plenty of rest, with as much undisturbed sleep as possible, is essential; for the baby grows so fast, and heart and lungs are developing so rapidly, that plenty of rest must supplement all other care.

WOOLSTON RETURNS FROM KENTUCKY TRIP

Robert W. Woolston, superintendent of the Illinois School for the Blind, has returned from Louisville, Kentucky, where he attended a meeting of the directors of the American Printing House for the Blind.

The printing house embosses Braille literature for the blind readers of the United States. The directors were called to Louisville for the purpose of revising the by-laws for the National Printing House. The revisions were to meet the changing and growing needs in education. New officers and committees were elected to make provisions for the ensuing school year.

Mr. Woolston was elected a member of the Publications Committee. This committee selects the text books for the schools for the blind in the United States.

Big George Earnshaw yielded 13 of the safeties, six of them coming in the seventh inning, when the Indians scored six runs. Harry Kinzy, right-hander from Texas Christian University, pitched the eighth inning for the Sox.

PHILLIES SMACK BRAVES 14 TO 11

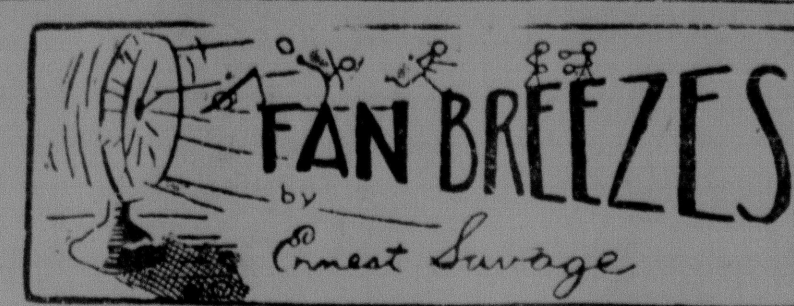

Philadelphia, July 5.—(P)—The Phillies outslugged the Boston Braves to win the first game of the series today, 14 to 11.

The Phils pounded Rhem, Brandt and Smith for 20 hits, including home runs by Camilli and G. Davis. It was the former's circuit clout, his ninth of the year with the score tied at 11 to 11 and two on base in the eighth inning, that gave the Phillies the victory.

"Boston pounded Davis, Grabowski, Syl Johnson and Collins for 17 hits, including home runs by McManus and Berger. Berger's was his 16th of the season.

Troubles continue to harass the Jacksonville Twilight League. The Myers Brothers Clothiers, who supposedly had one of the strongest lineups in the league this year, failed to appear for their game with the Red and White last night.

The trouble, as we understand it, arose over the desire of the Clothiers to use Red Duffner at first base. The league had voted not to use State Hospital employees, in view of the planned State Hospital interdepartmental league, but Duffner appeared in the line-up of the Clothiers upon the request of Manager John Day, who saw all but one of the managers in getting permission to use the red-head.

Now it appears that Day has resigned as manager of the team because the league insists that it stick by its original ruling. Day, on the other hand, was given the impression at a meeting that the other managers were desirous of taking some of his strong infield away from him.

In order to thrash the whole thing out, a meeting of the league managers has been called for tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. offices. The troublesome State Hospital question will be settled at that time.

And in the meantime, the Myers team is still looking for a new manager. Elmer Danner, who handled the club last year, is unable to do the work this year because of the press of business. Wayne Duncan has been suggested as a possible successor.

Speaking of winning, The ever-amazing Bill Bonthron, who made his first world record Saturday at Milwaukee, says it was an accident. He really did not mean to do it. This strange young man, who has not the slightest interest in records, had one forced on him.

The sport of foot racing has never had a character quite like "Bonny." Victory is his only goal and time is immaterial. Veteran observers say that he could have smashed Glenn Cunningham's mark at Los Angeles had he sprinted right through instead of coasting in the home stretch.

"I don't care about records," he told a Detroit newspaperman this week. "Track doesn't mean a thing to me. I'd rather play baseball, but the boys down at Princeton insist upon me running."

Fire broke out in an adjoining building threatened to destroy St. Viator College's brand new gymnasium the other day. The flames licked against the rear walls, but the fire was extinguished before any real damage was done. St. Viator lost one gymnasium because of fire.

Rip Collins, St. Louis Cardinal first sacker, saves all the broken bats he can find. He is building a picket fence around his winter quarters at Rochester, N. Y., with them.

The Ohio college conference has taken a drastic step. Athletes in this conference may play professional sports without being disbanded from the conference, provided they receive no pay.

They may receive pay in a professional sport, and still compete in the Ohio conference in some other sport. Dr. Ira T. Wilson, of Heidelberg college, announced after a meeting of the redefining group.

Just because a boy plays baseball for money does not indicate that he will be unfair competition in football, the doctor said.

Caddies at the Nichols Park course defeated a team of caddies from the new Union Pacific golf course at Alton. The local lads won by a 13-8 score. Jerome Barber fired a 69 to turn in the low gross for the 18 holes.

Sponsors of teams in Beardstown's twilight league are going to give the players a big fish fry sometime during the coming week.

YANKEES TRIM SENATORS 8 TO 3

New York, July 5.—(P)—A pair of former college stars, Lou Gehrig, from Columbia way back, and Johnny Broaca, a 1934 Yale graduate, today combined their hitting and pitching talents to give the New York Yankees an easy 8 to 3 victory over last season's pennant-winning Washington Senators.

Gehrig's big bat propelled his 22nd and 23rd home runs, putting him only one circuit drive behind the co-leaders, Jimmy Foss and Bob Johnson, and two singles, accounting for seven of the Yanks' eight runs. Columbia Lou's first four base drive came with the bases full in the third inning with Walter Stewart pitching for Washington. The drive would have been a single, but the Senator's center fielder, Fred Schulte, tried for a shoestring catch and the ball skipped past him. His second homer came in the fifth after Jack Saltzgaver had singled.

Broaca allowed but three runs on twelve hits he gave up. Two of these were home runs by Buddy Myers and Johnny Stone in the seventh and ninth innings, respectively, when the bases were empty. It was Broaca's fourth consecutive victory in his first season in the major leagues.

DAIRYMEN DEFEAT VETERANS; MYERS FAIL TO APPEAR

Timely Hits Give Morgan Dairy 10-2 Victory Over Veterans At High School—Red And White Refuses To Claim Forfeit.

Score Last Night
Morgan Dairy-10; Veterans-2.
Games Tonight
Lynnville vs. New Method (Nichols Park).
Fox Theaters vs. American Legion Jrs. (High School).

Timely hitting gave the Morgan Dairy their first victory in the Y.M.C.A. league at the high school field last night when they turned back the Veterans 10-2, while at the Nichols Park diamond, only the Red and White team appeared. Myers Brothers failed to put in their appearance, but "Red" Murgatroyd, manager of the Red and White team, refused to claim a forfeit in view of the fact that John Day had resigned as manager of the Clothiers and that they had not had ample time to secure a new skipper. The game will be played at a later date.

"Hoddy" Dobson gave only two hits in stopping the Veterans. One of the hits came in the first frame when Russell Cole, who has hit homers in the first inning of the last two games in which the Veterans have played, came up with a triple to drive in two runs. The other hit came in the ninth with two men out and robbed Dobson of the first one hit performance of the season.

Beemer and Duffer cracked out homers to give the Dairymen their big thrills of the evening. Moline scored in the opening frame when he got on first, stole second and third and scored on Hudson's single. Beemer's homer came in the third with two men on the paths. Gardner drove in two runs in the fourth with a double and scored later on a passed ball.

Duffer's homer came with the bases empty in the fifth, but Graubner got on through an error, and Ranson sent him home with a triple, scoring later.

MACKS NOSEOUT RED SOX 6 TO 5

Boston, July 5.—(P)—After spotting the Athletics five runs in the first inning, the Boston Red Sox squared up the game in the sixth frame today, only to lose out by a 6-5 margin in the seventh when three Mackmen singled consecutively to drive over the winning run.

Each team used three pitchers. "Dusty" Rhodes opening for the Sox and lasting only two-thirds of an inning. The Sox were trailing by five runs when Johnny Welch relieved Rhodes. UNDERGOES OPERATION
Boston, July 5.—(P)—Robert Moses "Lefty" Grove, Boston American league pitcher, underwent an operation for removal of his tonsils at St. Elizabeth hospital today. Dr. Edward J. O'Brien consulting physician of the Red Sox, said Grove would be able to rejoin the team by Sunday night when it begins its western tour.

It was the second effort to improve the condition of Grove, who, thus far this season, has been a disappointment. He was operated on during spring training for the removal of ulcerated teeth.

Joe Moore's Pinch Homer in 6th With Bases Filled Gives Giants Game Over Robins

Brooklyn, July 5.—(P)—Joe Moore's pinch home run with the bases filled in the sixth inning today provided the big wallop of a 13 to 7 victory of the World Champion New York Giants over the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field. The Dodgers were leading, 5 to 3, when Moore, pinch-hitting for Blondy Ryan, came to bat with two out in the sixth. Moore's mighty blow struck the right field screen, wiped out the Dodgers' lead and started the Giants on their way to victory.

The four-base hit was made off Ray Benge, who was hanging on to a two-run advantage. The blow ended Benge's tenure on the mound and he was succeeded by Watson Clark, who was given a disheartening welcome in the seventh when the Giants scored five more runs to build up a safe lead and put the game on ice.

cois-Poncet has many friends among influential Germans with whom he dines frequently.

Meanwhile, it was revealed by officials of the Nazi party that Chancellor Hitler's private army of 2,000-000 storm troopers, among whose leaders the shots of firing squads fell thickest, is doomed.

These officials confirmed reports that after the July vacation the place of storm troopers in German life will be greatly changed, indicating less than 20 percent of the men will be retained.

The protest from France was only one of a number of harassments faced by Hitler government which sought peaceful control at the cost of so many lives.

The nation was apprehensive as reports were heard of disturbances and dissatisfaction in the provinces—particularly in Bavaria and Silesia—and of new anti-Jewish movements.

The economic difficulties of German farmers is another source of possible difficulty.

The final rate of Vice-Chancellor Franz von Papen, remained to be determined.

He still held his office. But there was semi-official talk he would be demoted to lower rank in the cabinet, and would take a leave of absence.

Von Papen's office was dismantled, even the furniture being removed, and police last night searched his house again.

An all Nazi staff will take over the work in the Vice Chancellery after alterations of the building, it was revealed, the new men replacing close aides of Von Papen who were shot to death in Hitler's "purge" last Saturday and Sunday.

Nazi chiefs prepared for a congress in Flensburg, Schleswig-Holstein, to discuss their position from all angles.

Joseph Goebbels, propaganda minister, and Adolf Wagner, Bavarian leader who took part in the first moves against rebels, were there today awaiting Hitler.

CANNOT SHOW

Chicago, July 5.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wallace, Jr.—they went through a marriage ceremony in the nude last week at A Century of Progress concession—will have no encores at the fair.

Director of Concessions Nat Owings issued an order today restraining the management of the show place where the nudist nuptials were performed with sound and camera effects from hiring the couple for exhibition purposes. In reply to a request for such permission, the official stated:

"Under no circumstances, with or without covering, will you permit that couple to appear at your show."

Mt. Vernon Replica to Be Exhibit at Fair

Announcement has been made to the Rev. James Caldwell chapter, D.A.R., that the Daughters of the American Revolution will sponsor the replica of Mount Vernon being erected in the Colonial village at the World's Fair, Chicago. This project is undertaken in the interest of the Lincoln monument to be erected at the end of the Lincoln Memorial bridge in Lawrence county.

D.A.R. members will have complete charge of the Mount Vernon exhibit, according to the plan presented today by Mrs. Julian G. Goodhue, Illinois state regent of the D.A.R., who recently conferred with Governor Horner on the improvement of the land around the end of the beautiful memorial bridge. The landscape is lovely as a setting for the bridge at Vincennes, Ind., and the territory surrounding the place where Abraham Lincoln first set foot on Illinois soil should be in keeping with the memorial, and through the Mount Vernon exhibit this may become possible.

Proceeds of the Mount Vernon exhibit are to be used to purchase the beautiful Nellie V. Walker monument of the State of Illinois. It will be placed at the end of the Lincoln Memorial bridge at Lawrence county and denotes the arrival of the Young Man Lincoln and the Lincoln family in Illinois.

The replica of Mount Vernon will be identical with the national shrine, except that it will be smaller. But furniture is to be re-created and the entire surroundings are to be reproduced authentically. There will be a village scene in front of the building on which fete and costume affairs will be held under D.A.R. sponsorship.

Five hostesses a day will receive guests at Mount Vernon making a total of 700 D.A.R. members who will serve during the five months of the fair. There will be lectures in the lecture hall and series of lantern slides on colonial life will be exhibited at regular intervals.

Outside of the gleaming white portals of Mount Vernon which will be like a cameo set down in the mist of the fair, will be a real colonial town. Reproductions of the houses of Paul Revere and Betsy Ross, of the old North church and the old State House, of a village blacksmith shop, of the House of Seven Gables, of a colonial kitchen and a host of real New England life will be depicted.

A panorama of the Landing of the Pilgrims is being erected any everywhere will be colonial atmosphere. Town criers and stage coaches, characters in colonial costumes and shops in keeping with the early American period will be on the village streets.

A tiny pilgrim settlement with rude houses of split logs and thatch such as Miles Standish, John Alden and the fair Pocahontas once occupied is to be tucked into a corner of the village. Two big mansions, famous in colonial days, the Wayside Inn and Virginia Tavern, are to occupy places at the edge of the green, so that diners may watch the daily drills and fete that have been planned.

For many years it has been the desire of members of the D.A.R. to mark this Lincoln site with a suitable memorial and the state regent has the cooperation of all the members in this splendid historical work.

CHAPTER XIV

"I'll telephone Dr. Pomroy tonight and ask him if he'll meet us in the chapel at eleven o'clock," his voice ran on. "And I'll ask the Maldons to come down. We're supposed to have a couple of witnesses, aren't we?"

Dr. Pomroy was the rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, where she and Kim had always planned to be married. But who were the Maldons? She never had heard Kim mention them.

"Who are the Maldons, Kim?" she asked.

He thought for a minute or two.

"Why, I guess you haven't met them," he said at last. "I haven't known them so very long, myself, but they're pals of mine. Jack works down at our place. He and Claire have been married only two or three months. You'll like Claire, Mary Faith. She's a grand person."

Mary Faith stirred in her arms.

"I'd like to ask Jean Bartlett to the wedding. She's my best friend"—she was beginning when he stopped her.

"No. We're not going to have any of your friend Nesbit's office help around," he said firmly. "You're through with all that crowd, so forget them. I'm not going to tell even my mother about the wedding until it's all over. . . . Now, let me tell you where I thought we'd spend our two weeks."

She settled back to listen.

"You remember that aunt of mine who lives down in Garrettsville, Mary Faith?"

"Aunt Ella Goad, you mean?" Mary Faith remembered Aunt Ellen Goad very well. Having once seen Aunt Ella, you could never forget her.

She was a plump and pleasant person with a passion for moving pictures, library books, armchairs, and coffee and cake between meals. Mary Faith had always liked her, and she said so now.

"Well, she's come up to town to stay with my mother over the holidays," said Kim, "and I'm going to ask her to lend us her house down in Garrettsville for the next two weeks."

"Kim! Do you think she'll let us have it?" Mary Faith's eyes shone in the darkness. "Won't it be lovely if she does! I can cook all the things you like to eat, and get your bath ready in the mornings and put the collar buttons in your shirt!—And you can build the fires and shovel the snow off the walks so that I can get out of the yard when I want to go to market!"

"I'll drive you there in the car so that you won't get your cute feet all cold and wet," Kim said. "I'm going to take doggone good care of my wife."

"All right, you take care of me then."

"I'm going to," Kim said, and he said it gravely as if he were making himself a solemn promise.

"I'm leaving," said Mary Faith.

Mr. McClintock was playing checkers with Allie Brook when Mary Faith went back into the house an hour later. He sat facing the hall door and he saw her as she started up the stairs.

She turned her head and smiled at him. And he looked at her, blinking a little, as if he were looking at a sunrise.

Before she went to bed that night Mary Faith washed her hair and "did" her nails. Then she packed two suitcases with things for her honeymoon and laid out her clothes for the next day. A hunter's green suit trimmed with gray fox; a little green hat; pale gray stockings and slippers and handbag; a gray chiffon blouse.

It was one o'clock in the morning when she went to bed and she was awake again at half past six. It was still dark but the dawn wind blew in through the open windows and there was a line of silver in the sky above the houseposts on the other side of River Street.

"My wedding day," she thought, taking a long deep breath of it before she put down her windows. "This is the last time I'll ever get up in this room."

But there was no regret, no sadness, in the thought. She looked forward to her life with Kim with nothing but happiness in her heart.

The old house was like a tomb, as it always was on winter mornings, and she shivered as she ran down to the bathroom on the second floor. You had to get up at the crack of dawn if you wanted to take a morning bath at Mrs. Puckett's, for the "paying guests" all got up around seven and fairly fought for the bathroom.

When Mary Faith, fresh as a flower, came out into the hall a half hour later, Mrs. Puckett, with her bath towel and a cake of pink soap in her hand, was waiting just outside her door.

"I hope you didn't use all the hot water, Mary Faith," she said. "What you up so early for?"

"I'm going down to the office to get all my things—and I want to get away from it before everybody arrives," Mary Faith answered. "Mrs. Puckett, I'm going to marry Kim Farrell this morning."

Mrs. Puckett stared at her from under her wrinkled eyelids for a long moment. Then she shook her head. "I haven't a word to say, Mary Faith," she announced. "I haven't a word to say!"

But when Mary Faith was half-way up the stairs she said something else.

Council Members Not Ready to Vote on Gas Franchise Here

Forestalling hasty action, members of the city council at a special session held last night in the council chambers failed to come to agreement as to any future course to take in regard to the proposal of a group of men to set up and operate a distributing system for natural gas from the local fields.

Declaring that they were not ready to vote on a promise of a franchise, sought by Don Gray, who said he was ready to finance the project, democratic aldermen blocked a proposal that Attorney Clayton Barber, of Springfield, be called here for consultation on the proposed franchise in order to speed up action. The council adjourned immediately after the vote to bring Barber here.

Charges of railroad were shot at Mayor W. A. Wainwright by Alderman Ralph Cowgur, who asked for an explanation of the necessity of guaranteeing a franchise to the three men who were present at the meeting last night if the men fulfilled the terms of the contract. The mayor answered the charges by stating that the men were leaving here today for their homes and wanted to know how they stood with the council before they went ahead with plans for developing the Alexander field.

Conversations between the mayor, Clayton Barber and Don Gray, one of the interested persons seeking the gas franchise, a statement of plans for developing the Alexander field, and a statement of the legal status of the city council in granting a franchise were given during the evening. The Democratic group, led by Alderman Roy Conlee, opposed any action immediately, without further consultation with attorneys versed in the Illinois Commerce Commission laws, and when requested to name the authority they wished to consult, failed to give a response.

The gas franchise, Gray said, was sought for the simple reason that the group interested in promoting the project wished to be sure that after they had completed preliminary work estimated to cost about $25,000, they would have a market for their product. They were convinced, Gray said, that ample natural gas would be found in the Alexander field, and they were positive that they could deliver gas to the Jacksonville users as a reduction of approximately 100 per cent.

Explaining the stand taken by the promoters, Gray said that they merely wanted to be certain that when they found out exactly the conditions in the Alexander field, that they could be sure of a market, and that in the meantime that some one else would not come along and obtain a franchise. The entire project, that of setting up a distribution system, was estimated to cost approximately $300,000.

Suggests Motion. Alderman William Devlin made the only step toward compromising with the mayor when he suggested a motion which read that the council should not give anyone else a franchise until it had received a final report from the three men interested in the project at present. The motion was quickly withdrawn when Alderman Conlee and Weaver advised against making the motion.

Mayor Wainwright opened the meeting by telling of investigations conducted since the regular meeting of the council Monday night. Gray and the mayor conferred with Representative Hugh Green, and were unable to obtain from him any opinion as to the efficiency of the franchise. They were unable to confer with Judge Walter Wright, who is out of the city.

The mayor told of a trip to Springfield, to consult Clayton Barber. The Springfield attorney examined the proposed franchise, the mayor said, and voiced his opinion that it was in excellent shape, with possibly one or two exceptions. Barber explained at that time that it would be impossible for a holding company incorporated in Delaware, to handle the financing of the project, and that any company which did the financing would have to be incorporated under Illinois laws. Gray explained at that time that his company was incorporated in Delaware, and that he had a subsidiary company incorporated under the Illinois laws, which would handle the Jacksonville franchise.

Any group which plans to conduct a public service must go before the Illinois Commerce Commission with its plans and schedule of rates before it can operate, it was explained. The commerce commission makes a study of the relation between capital outlay and proposed rates to determine whether the company can make money and upon their findings would set the value of the franchise offered this city. The proposed franchise offers to sell gas at a rate of 90c per thousand feet to the household consumer.

The mayor continued his report of the Springfield conference by stating that Barber called Willis Spaulding, who participated in the Springfield fight for a municipally owned and operated electrical plant. The mayor quoted Mr. Spaulding as saying the proposition sounded good, and commented that if it was accepted and put into operation, it would "bust" gas rates in Illinois.

Following the mayor's report, and after Alderman Cowgur had been informed that Judge Wright was out of the city and therefore could not be contacted, Gray took the floor to explain the status of his company in Illinois. He again declared that there would be no stock in the promoting company for sale, stating that it was a closed corporation.

Watered Stocks. High gas rates, he continued, are caused by large corporations watering their stocks and increasing the dividend load. There will be no watered stock in his corporation he assured the council, because the venture will be attempted as a money making project for the present members of his corporation numbering either four or five men.

Revealing a decree now on file in the Morgan County circuit court, the which purports to give to the Illinois Power and Light corporation a franchise in perpetuity. Gray said that the decree could not be held valid, because the longest term for a franchise between municipalities and corporations in this state is now twenty years, and that at no time has any city in the state been able to give a contract in perpetuity. The longest term on record are for 99 years, he pointed out. The consent decree was entered in the court records several years ago.

Asked by Alderman Ralph Green whether he could sell his franchise to any other company, Gray answered that if he sold the franchise, as it was his right to do, the company which purchased the franchise would have to abide by the same rates as those in the contract. Rates are fixed by the Commerce Commission, he pointed out, and are based on the value of equipment, and any change in the rates would have to have the approval of the Commerce body. Alderman Green pointed out that it would be possible to sell the franchise to another company and that company might go before the commission with proof that they were unable to make money because of the overhead expenses and thereby obtain higher rates.

The mayor called the council's attention to the clause in the proposed franchise which states that natural gas will be sold at a top figure of 90 cents. If the company which offered the franchise fails to meet this agreement, the mayor pointed out, the franchise can be held void for failure to come up to the agreement.

Investigation of the Alexander gas field revealed that the Panhandle and Illinois Power and Light Corp., are taking gas out of only a few wells. There is a large undeveloped territory, the mayor said, which could be put into production. Gray stated that he believed the wells would supply all of the gas the city needed, that the gas came out of a fine sand bed, and that someone has been doing a lot of "kidding" about the whole gas situation, for the simple reason that as long as people could be made to believe that a field cannot supply the demand, high price gas can be sold.

Declaring that he could see no reason for asking for a promise of a franchise, Alderman Conlee said he regarded the franchise as strictly a matter of business, and that as soon as the men had something to sell he was of the opinion that the council would be ready to take some sort of action. Alderman Harlan Williamson declared that he thought things were moving along nicely, and that he certainly was in favor of giving the men a chance to show what they could do. However, he said, he was still of the same opinion that he was last Monday night when he proposed that a committee of public spirited citizens acquainted with the law study the proposal.

To Compile Data. Gray told of authorizing the expenditure of $1,000 for compilation of data regarding the status of this city and his company and for gaining other information about gas franchises in this state. This step already has been taken, he said, and if Jacksonville wants to obtain the 90c rate, he would like to have some assurance from the council that they would grant a franchise when the group with which he is connected meets the terms of the franchise. He declared his company was going to sell gas and that it was being offered to Jacksonville at the proposed rates now. He concluded by stating that he didn't believe it would be possible to offer gas at that rate sometime in the future.

After considerable discussion, Alderman Thomas Warwick proposed that Attorney Barber, who is rated as an expert on municipal affairs, be brought to Jacksonville to explain the various features of the proposed franchise, and the city's responsibility. There was some talk as to whether the council was ready to vote on the motion. Alderman Conlee stated that he was opposed to Barber. Asking that attorney he would like to have, he answered that he favored a local man. The mayor named most of the attorneys in the city, but Conlee shook his head after each name was mentioned. Bringing the motion to bring Barber here to a vote, the three republicans, Green, Warwick and Cowgur, voted for the motion and Conlee, Cowgur, Devlin and Weaver opposed bringing him here. Alderman Williamson was excused a few minutes before the vote was called, by the mayor.

TWO BANDITS ROB CAMP POINT BANK OF $1,000 IN CASH

Jacksonville Officers Watch Roads For Pair as Alarm is Sounded

Quincy, Ill., July 5.—(P)—Western Illinois authorities concentrated tonight in a search for two bank bandits who robbed the Farmers State bank of Camp Point, 25 miles northeast of here, shortly before noon today.

The bandits took about $1,000 in cash after time locks frustrated their plans to rob the main vault. Earl Pierce, cashier of the bank, said one of the pair was the same man who on previous occasions has robbed and attempted to rob the bank.

Residents along the highway from Camp Point reported the bandit car headed toward Quincy and then doubled back east. D. C. Knott, deputy sheriff at Golden, pursued the pair to a point a mile south of Golden but lost them in a cloud of dust.

The bank was the aim of robbers twice before. In June, 1931, Pierce was kidnapped from his home in an unsuccessful robbery attempt. In October, 1932, the bandit returned with the words, "Hello, Earl, I've come back," and took $2,000 from the vault.

Jacksonville police and sheriff's forces were notified late yesterday afternoon to be on the lookout for the bandits who looted the Camp Point bank.

According to the Adams county sheriff, two men answering the description of the bandits had stopped at a filling station at Ripley and asked the best route to Jacksonville.

When the local peace officials received the call, deputies and police were dispatched to the main highways leading into Jacksonville from the west and north. Two officers were placed on Route 36, two on Route 104 and two on Route 67.

The Adams county sheriff claimed that the bandits were riding in a 1930 Chevrolet car. The license numbers on the car were covered with mud, the sheriff stated.

OPEN PORTION OF MAIN STREET FOR TRAFFIC

With South Main street open for travel from Michigan avenue to Morton avenue, bricklayers employed by the contractors moved to the square yesterday and began paving operations which will continue from the square toward Morton avenue. Hundreds of automobiles tried out the new paving during the Fourth of July and since that time between Morton and Michigan, and have found it to be in excellent condition. They have noticed a much smoother surface with fewer bumps in the brick-on-concrete and asphalt paving than is customary on either concrete or brick.

It is estimated that about two weeks more will be needed to complete the paving. Bricklayers slapped about three-fourths of a block of bricks in place yesterday, and are expected to reach their peak production of about 500 feet a day for the remainder of the time.
